

Professors and Lecturers in the Master International Economics

	Eckhard Hein Academic Director of the Master International Economics Eckhard Hein is Professor of Economics and Director of the Master International Economics Programme at Berlin School of Economics and Law (HWR). He is Co-Director of the Institute for International Political Economy Berlin (IPE), Research Associate at the Levy Economics Institute, Annandale-on-Hudson, New York, and at the Center of Economics of Paris North (CEPN), Member of the Coordination Committee of the Forum for Macroeconomics and Macroeconomic Policies (FMM), and Co-Editor of the European Journal of Economics and Economic Policies: Intervention. His research focuses on post-Keynesian macroeconomics, money, financial systems, distribution and growth, and European economic policies. He teaches Macroeconomics, as well as Growth and Distribution in the Master programme. Website: https://www.hwr-berlin.de/en/prof/eckhard-hein/
	Ümit Akcay Ümit Akcay, Assoc. Prof. of Economics, has been a Visiting Scholar and Lecturer at HWR Berlin since 2017. He previously held positions at Istanbul Bilgi University, Atılım University and METU in Turkey between 2016 and 2017, at the Department of Politics and at MEIS in New York University between 2011 and 2015, and at the Department of Economics of Ordu University in Turkey between 2009 and 2011. He has a Ph.D. in Development Economics from Marmara University, Turkey. His research interests are financialization in emerging capitalist countries, international political economy and political economy of Turkey. Website: https://www.ipe-berlin.org/en/institute/members/uemit-akcay/

	Hartmut Aden Hartmut Aden is Professor of German and European Public Law, Public Policy and Public Administration at the HWR Department of Police and Security Management. He is a member of the Berlin Institute for Safety and Security Research (FÖPS Berlin) and Vice-President for Research of HWR Berlin. Prior to becoming a professor at HWR Berlin he was a Senior Audit Manager at the German Federal Court of Audit (Bundesrechnungshof, Bonn) and an Assistant Professor at Leibniz University Hanover. His research covers topics related to policing and internal security, data protection, environmental policy, European integration, multilevel governance and accountability of public administration. Website: https://www.hwr-berlin.de/en/prof/hartmut-aden/
	Alessandro Bramucci Alessandro Bramucci is a Research Associate and Lecturer at HWR. Currently he is working on the project WIPOSIM where he is contributing to the development of a paradigm-oriented economic policy simulator. He has taught several courses in economics and quantitative methods. Alessandro holds a PhD in Economics from the University of Urbino (Italy) and a M.A. in International Economics from the HWR. His research interests include global value chains, pluralism in macroeconomics and history of economic thought. Website: https://www.ipe-berlin.org/en/institute/members/alessandro-bramucci/
	Trevor Evans Trevor Evans has a PhD in Economics from the University of London. He worked for many years at the Regional Centre for Economic and Social Research (CRIES) in Managua, Nicaragua and, until he retired in 2015, was Professor for Monetary Theory, Monetary Policy and International Monetary Relations at the Berlin School of Economics and Law (HWR). His research interests are the political economy of international money and finance, the US economy and its international impact, economic policy in Europe, finance and development, Marxian and Post-Keynesian theories of money and finance. Website: https://www.ipe-berlin.org/en/institute/members/trevor-evans/

	Carmen Giovanazzi Carmen Giovanazzi is a Lecturer for a preparation course in Macroeconomics. She holds a Master degree in International Economics from the Berlin School of Economics and Law (HWR) and a Master degree in Economic Analysis and Policy from Université 7 – Diderot &amp; Université 13 – Sorbonne Paris Cité. She works as Head of Office for a Member of the the German Parliament. Her research interests are macroeconomics, gender, distribution and economic and financial policies. Website: https://www.ipe-berlin.org/en/institute/associate-members/carmen-giovanazzi/
	Martina Metzger Martina Metzger is a Professor of Monetary Economics at the Berlin School of Economics and Law (HWR) with a focus on emerging market economies; in that context, she serves as the liaison person of HWR's cooperation with Southwestern University of Finance and Economics (SWUFE Chengdu/China) and Deutsche Bundesbank Berlin on monetary policy. Her lectures cover macro, finance &amp; development as well as current issues of international economic and financial relations both in bachelor and master programmes. Her research deals with issues such as exchange rate regimes, remittances, digital financial services, financial and monetary cooperation, regional integration, financial sector development of developing countries and emerging markets, financial market regulation, international and national financial and monetary architecture. Website: https://www.hwr-berlin.de/en/prof/martina-metzger/
	Salmai Qari Salmai Qari is Professor of Econometrics at the Berlin School of Economics and Law (HWR) and a Research Affiliate at the German Institute of Economic Research (DIW Berlin). His research focuses on public economics and statistical methods. He has published numerous articles in international peer-reviewed journals, including top field journals, such as the Journal of Economic Psychology, the Scandinavian Journal of Economics or Communications in Statistics: Simulation and Computation. Website: https://www.hwr-berlin.de/en/hwr-berlin/about-us/staff/554-salmai-qari/

	Joëlle Saey-Volckrick Joëlle Saey-Volckrick is a Lecturer for Ecological Economics at the Berlin School of Economics and Law (HWR), a coordinator and editor of the international webportal Degrowth.info and a community builder for a local food initiative in Quebec, where she lives. She studied Political Science in Brussels and Mexico, and International Economics in Berlin. Her research is grounded in the fields of ecological economics, political ecology, environmental justice and degrowth. Her work generally aims at bridging the gap between academic research and social movements.
	Martina Sproll Martina Sproll is a Professor of Social Sciences (Structural change and the welfare state in international perspectives), at the Berlin School of Economics and Law (HWR). She is currently Director of the Master Labour Policies and Globalisation at the HWR Berlin and member of the Steering Committee of the Global Labour University. Her research and lectures focus on Transnational Production and Labour, Gender Relations, Social inequalities, Political Economy and Sociology of Latin America and Europe, Migration and Post-Democracy in Europe. Website: https://www.ipe-berlin.org/en/institute/members/martina-sproll/
	Christina Teipen Christina Teipen is a Professor of Social Sciences at the Berlin School of Economics and Law (HWR) with a focus on economic sociology; in that context, she coordinates a research project on “Economic and Social Upgrading”. Christina Teipen’s seminars cover global governance, European multi-level governance as well as current issues of European political integration and work, business and society both in bachelor and master programmes. Her research deals with issues such as global value chains, labour, industrial relations, comparative political economy, industry studies in the Global North and the Global South. She is member of the Academic senate of HWR. Website: https://www.ipe-berlin.org/en/institute/members/christina-teipen/

	Hanna Völkle Hanna Völkle is a Lecturer for Feminist and Ecological Economics at HWR. She studied Social Sciences and Political Economy of European Integration in Düsseldorf and Berlin and did a traineeship in science communication at the Institute for Ecological Economic Research (IÖW). In her master's thesis, she explored the overlaps of feminist and ecological economics. Currently she is preparing a PhD project to elaborate a feminist-ecological concept of time sovereignty/wealth. She works as an expert for the non-profit organisation EAF Berlin that provides an interface between politics, economy and science fostering diversity in leadership. Website: https://www.eaf-berlin.de/en/about-us/team/voelkle/
	Ryan Woodgate Ryan Woodgate is a Research Associate and Lecturer at the Berlin School of Economics and Law (HWR), and a PhD candidate at the Université Sorbonne Paris Nord. His research focuses primarily on post-Keynesian macroeconomics and issues of modern globalisation, such as those related to multinational enterprises and global production chains. He has taught courses in Macroeconomics, Applied International Economic Policy, and Calculus. Website: https://www.ipe-berlin.org/en/institute/members/ryan-woodgate/
	Jennifer Pédussel Wu Jennifer Pédussel Wu is a Professor of Economics with a focus on international trade and production at the Berlin School of Economics and Law (HWR) and Director of the Master program in Chinese-European Economics and Business Studies in cooperation with the Southwestern University of Finance and Economics (SWUFE) in Chengdu, PR China. She has previously been a Member of the LEN Research Center at the University of Nantes and a Senior Fellow at the Center for European Integration Studies in Bonn. She has taught in the USA, France, and China. Her research interests include: international trade, regional economic integration, trade in factors of production (FDI and migration), institutional development, MNCs, remittances, financial inclusion, and gender. Website: https://www.ipe-berlin.org/en/institute/members/jennifer-pedussel-wu/

 A portrait photograph of Reingard Zimmer, a woman with short brown hair, wearing a dark jacket over a teal top.	Reingard Zimmer Reingard Zimmer is Professor of German, European and International Labour Law at HWR with a focus on cross border issues. She is a full qualified lawyer (2nd state exam) and holds a PhD in Law. Her lectures cover German individual and collective labour law, as well as European and international labour law, both in bachelor and master programmes. Her research deals with issues of collective labour law, as for example the right to strike, European works councils and transnational collective bargaining, but also touches areas concerning the prevention of social dumping or precarious work (such as posting of workers or agency work). The impact of trade and investment agreements on social standards is another topic of research. Furthermore, she is engaged in research on gender issues, such as equal pay. Website: https://www.hwr-berlin.de/en/hwr-berlin/about-us/staff/834-reingard-zimmer/
---	--