Week 1: European Governance

Students will get a closer look at the European Integration process from the European Coal and Steel Community up to the Lisbon Treaty. They will learn that the Lisbon Treaty has brought about major changes of the architecture of the European Union. Students will gain insights into European Governance by dealing with competences of and decision-making by the European Council, the Council of Ministers, the European Commission and the European Parliament. In order to understand the specific construction of the EU a closer look at EU-law (e. g. regulations and directives) will be necessary.

Week 2: Human Rights and Labour in the EU

The students will be introduced to the various sources of employment law, specifically International Labour Standards and EU law. They will gain an understanding of how EU directives influence the employment law of member states (e. g. EU non-discrimination law for employment relationships). They have the opportunity to enhance their knowledge of how workers' representation on the works level and enterprise level is organized in Europe. They will learn to recognize the similarities and differences between Germany and other European countries, and be able to debate the advantages and disadvantages of the European Works Council. Finally the students will learn about European Human Rights, which will enable them to judge and communicate about conflicts of interest in the workplace involving basic freedoms.

Week 3: EU Corporate and Competition Law

Students gain insights in the different approaches towards protection of interests of consumers, creditors, shareholders and stakeholders and towards corporate governance in the member states of the European Union. For this purpose students get information as to the corporate law systems in some of the most important member states of the EU (i. a. Germany, France, UK, Italy, Spain). Students learn about EU-Competition law and the attempts of the European Union to harmonize national corporate laws. Students return to their home universities with ideas to come to a corporate and competition law system which serves both the interests of companies and the interests of consumers, creditors, shareholders and stakeholders.
