Your internship is mandatory

The majority of students plan to conduct an internship as a mandatory part of their studies. In this context, many students are interested in working in a startup.

At the Startup Incubator Berlin, the startup center of the HWR Berlin, young companies develop their innovative business models. The possibility of completing a mandatory internship at a startup is also available here. The range of opportunities is diverse and covers the fields of business development, marketing, data analysis and software development.

Find an internship for summer 2020

The Entrepreneurship Team and the Internship Office of the HWR Berlin give you the opportunity to get to know the startups and their internship offers at a single event. The internship festival will take place on December 9, 2019 from 5:00 pm to 7:00 pm at the Startup Incubator Berlin in Berlin-Siemensstadt. The event might be interesting for all students who want to start their compulsory internship in summer 2020 or earlier.

Network and meet the teams

Come on over and visit the startups in their work environment, talk to them about their motivation and get to know the teams. After the speed dating with the startups, you have the opportunity to socialize and network. You can also talk to them about other options for collaboration, such as student jobs or cooperative theses.
