In this workshop, you will receive an impulse on the topic of cooperation, including impulses on the pillars of a high-performing team, team phases and team dynamics, communication including feedback and conflict resolution.

There are interactive offers for the teams to try out tools for improved teamwork, so we recommend attending as a full team and using the space to work together.

our coach Kerstin Buschbeck supports entrepreneurs and future managers in their role, to develop their potential, to realize their visions and to build a work culture in which goals are achieved and people contribute their strengths. She offers reflective and playful methods to change the way teams work together through improved communication, a trustful feedback culture and to ensure their performance.
